

INSTITUTE OF PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIES

PRIZEWINNING PHOTOGRAPHY

Olympia, WA | Student Application

In conjunction with Christian Heritage Home Educators of Washington, the Institute of Photographic Studies will be hosting two photography classes this summer in Olympia, WA for students 16 years of age and older.

Prizewinning Photography is a week-long course in the foundations of professional photography. Students will spend time each day in the field shooting, in the classroom studying, and in small groups reviewing their day's work.

Prizewinning Photography II is the natural follow-up to the first week. Students divide their time between new digital imaging techniques on the computer and further study in lighting and people photography.

More information on these and other IPS courses is available at the IPS booth or online at <http://www.prizewinningphotography.com>.

To begin a learning experience you will never forget, simply fill out this application form and return it to the IPS booth, or mail to the IPS office, with a $100 deposit/course towards course tuition. Remaining tuition and any housing fees are due upon arrival.
